And data-driven quality improvement including reduced readmissions and faster time to treatment

CRITICAL CARE

Adfinitas Health critical care providers are board-certified intensivists, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants with specialized training in critical care who:

- Assess the current clinical protocols and operational workflows
- Work to optimize quality of care and adherence to best practices
- Are dedicated to the hospital and acting as leaders in patient care

PEDIATRICS

Our pediatric hospitalists deploy an integrated and comprehensive approach to caring for newborn and younger patients across hospital departments including Labor & Delivery, Pediatrics, Psychiatry, and the Emergency Department (ED) to:

- Improve care coordination
- Provide appropriate treatment and diagnosis for young patients
- Always observe established protocols and standards of care for neonatal and pediatric patients.

EMERGENCY DEPARTMENTS

Through strategic partnerships, Adfinitas Health provides ED services with cohesive, efficient care necessary for meeting the increasing demand of accountability and quality as it relates to patient throughput, process management, and patient care improvements with programs focusing on:

- Improved throughput and processes
- Improved patient experience and HCAHPS scores
- Teamwork, confidence and communication

"I've worked with the physicians and physician assistants of Adfinitas Health since its inception in 2007. They're highly engaged members of our medical staff, contributing to our quality improvement initiatives along with their own. They have developed a model of inpatient care and medical co-management that has won support from many members of our medical staff. I can recommend them to any hospital and medical staff."
